Here is what I`ve found on their site - <http://www.skypecap.com/>

SkypeCap records Skype microphone audio chatting and Skype real-time video.

SkypeCap can set:

- video compression codec;
- audio compression codec;
- customize width and height;
- output frame rate.

Start saving your video and audio sessions with your family, friends, partners or anyone from Skype!

You will be able to record voice without any limitations for free, only video saving with be watermarked in the trial version, so obviously you can use it for free for some purposes.

The full version cost 49.95
